

John Rhow

Executive Chairman and President

---

John Rhow is the Executive Chairman and President of Redaptive which he co-founded in 2014. Prior to Redaptive, John served as a Special Financing Advisor to the Kleiner, Perkins, Caufield & Byers Green Growth Fund. John previously headed Barclays Western Region Power and Water Infrastructure practice. In addition, John worked for more than 11 years at Goldman Sachs serving in various financing advisory and structuring roles spanning corporate finance and off-balance sheet project financing, including public-private partnership (PPP) financing.

Over his 15 years in the investment banking industry, John has played an integral role in approximately $20 billion of successful financing transactions on behalf of Fortune 500 companies, infrastructure developers, and municipalities.

John is a graduate of Harvard University.